

Hi Don,

E2013 continues to progress OK. I'll do another 'formal' update (Bulletin #3) prior to Christmas but after the 'early bird' tier of entry fees has closed (16 Dec).

Compared with a month ago the big news is that Eventor is now up and running, with just under 100 entries on latest data that I've seen. That number is expected to surge in the 48-24 hours prior to the cut-off, perhaps to 400 or more. On other fronts, (i) we plan to open the 'merchandise shop' in the next day or two (to catch the surge in entries) and (ii) the search for an event camp-site continues after a series of knock-backs (and fears that all commercial accommodation in Bendigo may be fully booked).

All the best,

John
